

Personal Information Collection Statement pertaining to Employment

DHL Express (Hong Kong) Limited (the “Company” and together with its holding company, subsidiaries and associated companies shall be collectively referred to as the “DHL Group”) is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy in accordance with the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance of Hong Kong (the “Ordinance”), the DHL Group policies, the Company’s Personal Data Protection Policy and the Company’s Policy regarding Facial Image Data (the “Policies”) at <https://www.dhl.com/hk-en/home/footer/privacy-notice.html> and <https://dpdhl.sharepoint.com/sites/Express-Hong-Kong-Human-Resources> all of which shall apply to you as an employee of the Company.

1. From time to time during your employment with the Company, the Company may collect personal data (such as, without limitation, name, address, telephone number, identification number, bank details, health and financial information) from you or from other sources in connection with your employment with the Company for various human resources management purposes. Failure to supply the required personal data may result in the Company not being able to fulfill the purposes mentioned in paragraph 2 below.
2. The personal data provided by you and/or obtained by the Company from other sources from time to time during your employment with the Company, may be used, retained, processed and/or transferred by the Company for the following purposes (as well as any other purposes directly related thereto) and for any other purposes as shall be agreed from time to time between the Company and yourself or as shall be required by law:
 - a) to provide and maintain employee remuneration and benefits for you and/or your dependent(s);
 - b) to place you for employment in any company within the DHL Group and/or any company in which the Company has a direct or indirect interest in Hong Kong or elsewhere;
 - c) to meet legal requirements and/or to make disclosure under any law binding on the Company or any member of the DHL Group;
 - d) to facilitate and/or complete the restructuring of the corporate structure, reorganization, sale, transfer, assignment or similar purposes of the Company or any member of the DHL Group;
 - e) to facilitate communication between the Company and yourself;
 - f) to provide employee reference; and/or
 - g) for any other purposes of human resources management pertaining to your employment with the Company or any member of the DHL Group.
3. After cessation of your employment with the Company, the Company may use, retain, process and/or transfer certain personal data of you for any residual employment-related activities in relation to you as a former employee including, but not limited to the provision of job references, processing applications for re-employment, matters relating to retirement benefits and fulfilling contractual or statutory obligations of the Company.
4. Your personal data obtained will be kept confidential by the Company with reasonable and practical security measures designed to protect against loss, misuse and/or alteration of your personal data under its control.
5. The Company may disclose and/or transfer such personal data within the DHL Group or to the following persons (whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere) who shall, subject to any applicable law, use, process, retain or transfer such personal data for any of the purposes mentioned above (including any other purposes directly related thereto):
 - a) any authorized parties within the Company or the DHL Group;
 - b) any agent, contractor, service provider of the Company or the DHL group, including their respective professional advisers and other third party who has a duty of confidentiality to the Company or any member of the DHL Group;
 - c) any person when the Company is compelled to make disclosure under statutory requirements; and
 - d) any person seeking employee reference.
6. You have a duty to inform the Human Resources Department of the Company of any changes in your personal data held by the Company.
7. Facial Image Data
 - a) Collection and use of facial image data

The Company may collect your facial image data (being one of your personal data) by means of a facial recognition system (the “System”) and use your facial image data for the purposes of verifying your identity, detecting and preventing fraud and misrepresentation by unauthorized person, preserving security of the Company’s facilities by detecting and preventing unauthorized access to restricted and secure areas, and recording your attendance (as well as any other purposes directly related thereto).

b) Disclosure and transfer of facial image data to third party

Only authorized personnel of (i) the Company; and (ii) the service provider(s) which supply and maintain the System may have access to and/or the need to process your facial image data for the purposes stated in paragraph 7a) above.

Your facial image data may be disclosed or transferred to other members of the DHL Group or the abovementioned third parties (whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere) for the abovementioned purposes for which facial image data is collected, or for storage or processing in relation thereto. All the transfer of facial image data will be carried out in compliance with the requirements of the Ordinance and the Policies. Your facial image data may also be disclosed to the relevant government authorities as mandated by applicable law and regulation. Other than in the instances as mentioned above, the Company will not share, disclose and/or transfer your facial image data to any other third party unless your consent has been obtained.

c) Possible use of facial image data in investigation and relevant follow-up action on you

Your facial image data may be relied upon and used by the Company in investigation and relevant follow-up action on you.

d) Retention of facial image data record

Record of your facial image data will be kept by the Company during your employment with the Company, and will be deleted within 5 working days upon the end of the employment.

e) Your right to free choice and alternative option

The provision of your facial image data to the Company is not obligatory. You are free to decide whether to agree to provide your facial image data. To indicate your voluntary and informed consent to provide your facial image data to the Company, please sign at the end of this Statement. If you choose not to provide your facial image data for the abovementioned purposes, the Company will provide an alternative option to you (namely, scanning of personalized access card) for the same purposes.

8. Under and in accordance with the Ordinance and the Policies, you have the right at any time to seek access to and correction of your personal data held by the Company. In addition, you may request the Company to delete your personal data that is no longer required for the relevant purposes which you have given consent. If you wish to exercise such right or have any question in relation to your personal data or the Policies, please contact HR Business Manager of the Company in writing at hkghr@dhl.com. In accordance with the Ordinance, the Company has the right to charge a reasonable fee for processing any of your data access request.
